Property Description

This brand-new luxury build offers sunset ocean views over Dominicalito Bay, it's as close as you can get to the beach with title. You have a clear view of the Parcela Island all the way up to the beaches of Manuel Antonio. The home is located in the highly desired Las Olas community filled with high-end luxury homes with a proven history of producing excellent rental incomes. This home boasts a very unique, front row location giving it a strong competitive advantage over other luxury rental homes on Costa Rica's South Pacific Coast. Three of the four bedrooms have ocean views, and the property will have you feeling immersed in the jungle with a lush nature reserve located just next door. Each room is very spacious and is furnished with new custom-made hardwood beds and night tables. As you walk from room to room, you'll notice vaulted ceilings and tall doorways made of cedar hardwood that mirror compliment the cabinetry and accents throughout.
