Property Description

Do you dream of finding THE premium view site on the southern Pacific coast within hearing distance of ocean waves? Look no further! This 16 acre parcel is positioned on the first ridge just south of Punta Uvita and provides stunning views of waves rolling in along the entire length of Playa Uvita's beautiful beach that has the Ballena (whale) Marina National Park, home to the famed appearing and disappearing Whales Tail geographical phenomenon sitting on the ocean side of the beach. This site looks directly north up the coast to Manuel Antonio National Park and Isla Del Caño can be seen to the west. The southern extension of the Whales Tail rock formation makes this beach one of the safest in Costa Rica by reducing dangerous rip currents. By far the best views that any property can offer along the Costa Ballena. There are multiple terraces to choose from for you to build your dream home on and for your friends or extended family to build on too, all offering spectacular ocean and mountain range views with ocean breezes all day long.
