Property Description

What makes this property unique to all others is its breathtaking waterfall! With a height of over 150 ft and directly opposite the home's beautiful open-air living room, the waterfall becomes part of your day to day life. The sellers wanted to include a short epilogue to express their passion for this one of a kind home; If you want waterfalls and clear creeks on your property, you have to search for a long time, even in Costa Rica. If you want the sunset in the sea on top and the view over a peaceful valley, too, you have to search harder yet – even in Costa Rica! We looked for such a place in many countries and continents. After years we found it – here at the South Pacific Coast. All our dreams in one place. Then we designed the property and the house. It forms a semicircle, whose line of sight opens to a wide valley. Everything is surrounded by the spectacular Coast Mountains and radiates deep peace.
