Property Description

Tucked away in a lush area where monkeys traipse through the property daily, don't be surprised if a family of monkeys greets you upon your arrival. You can see that this Costa Rica property for sale blends in well with the surrounding environment of lush green jungle, nature, and tropical birds and wildlife. As you enter the home, you can see the beautiful ocean views across the living room area and outdoor entertainment area. You notice the spacious gourmet kitchen to your right with an abundance of counter space. This open floor plan continues with a living room area full of natural light and all-glass windows and sliders that open to a fantastic outdoor entertainment area. The outdoor area has travertine stone and a zero-edge pool with incredible turquoise water and cloud reflections. You can choose from an area with a day bed, a large table, or one of the other outdoor areas to hang out and take in the incredible coastline views.
