Property Description

Alma del Mar? What does that mean. Well, it is the perfect description and name of this stunning beachfront home. Alma del Mar literally translates to 'Soul of the Sea'. On many levels this special name is perfectly apropos because the beachfront of this home serves as a regular nesting site for one of the most sentient beings in the ocean, the Pacific Green Sea Turtle. Alma del Mar is a distinctive four bedroom home, each a master bedroom, with four ensuite baths and roughly 5000ft² of construction. It was built in traditional Spanish Colonial style by the developers of the exclusive gated and guarded community called Hacienda Pinilla. The show piece to this home is the outdoor, beach level, covered terrace and pool. Upon walking in, warm and open spaces welcome you. Your senses are coddled by an inviting entertainment room, the custom pool, and the grandeur of the Pacific Ocean in the distance.
