Property Description

Located just above the beachside town of Ojochal this is the perfect property for a family or couple looking to have a income while living in Costa Rica. Providing both ocean and jungle views with a great pool area, this single-level home and two-story home is just minutes from beaches, town services, and daily amenities. The primary home is two stories, with custom wood ceilings that are found throughout the home and the open floor plan allows for plenty of daily sunlight and air flow. The downstairs has a seperate entrance and is set up as a loft concept with a small kitchen, bathroom, and storage area. The room can be used as a weekly rental or as a second bedroom in the main house for guest. The second home is a great income producing property that is located below the main home and out of site of the main house. It has its own private drive way, two master bedrooms with spectacular ocean views, an amazing out outside sitting area that connects to the pool and outside living areas.
