Property Description

In a world of unique properties, this home stands out for its bright, open design, the happy blend of Caribbean inspired colors, the big view of the forested valley right out to the Pacific Ocean, and the jungle path that takes you to and through your own nature walk. You cannot help but smile from the time you walk onto the property until you leave. The owners have put their creative touches everywhere, completely rebuilding the home to reflect their energy and spirit. It's no wonder this home rents so frequently and receives "7 Star Reviews!" Inside there are the two bedrooms, two bathrooms, a great room with kitchen at one end and relaxation center at the other, a full laundry/utility area, and a loft that can be an office or spare bedroom for guests. Everything about the home is designed to catch mountain breezes and see all of the natural world around you. Outside, there is a manicured lawn where you could easily put a 2-story totally awesome little guest house and an infinity pool.
