Property Description

Peaceful, quiet, beautiful, serene, mellow, placid, undisturbed, untroubled, safe, clean, harmonious and sublime. That describes this property that is finally being made available after many years in private hands. Do not miss this opportunity to own the premiere piece of property in the safest and most undisturbed area of the country. Easily Costa Rica's best kept secret. Undiscovered Costa Rica! Herradura de Rivas is a tiny village (250 people mas o menos) made up of mostly cattle farmers and coffee growers. Hardworking, honest folks indeed. It is located on the skirts of Mount Chirripo (the highest mountain in CR), which lends itself to a fantastic climate and great gardening too! Chirripo National Park is just a stones throw away. Our spring-like temperatures are usually between 60-80F (15-26C) degrees year-round. There may be the odd night or two that the temp dips into the 50's (teensC).
