Property Description

When you enter the double door entry to this amazing home, the spectacular view looking north up the Pacific Coastline and with the incredible, unique sand bar point with the rocky reef at the end resembling a "whales tail" becomes the center of attention! Mother nature changes the view with the tide going up and down every 6 hours, adding to the excitement. There is limited inventory with custom finished homes with this location and view. More detail below. This magnificent 3200 square foot custom built luxury home has it all. With two master bedrooms and the third room having an attached bathroom, lending to it great flow and layout for grown-up families, rentals and space for friends to visit. The property has an additional building site that would be ideal for a second home offering amazing views and plenty space for a covered rancho, garden, etc... The infinity edge pool covered in a beautiful greenish colored stone from Indonesia and is large enough to swim, play or just float around.
