Property Description

This ocean view house offers an unobstructed view of miles of jungle lined coastline, the Osa Peninsula, Garza Island and the ever changing coastline where the Terraba River joins the ocean. In addition there is a magnificent view of the Talamanca Mountains and seasonal waterfalls. The views from this house provide a perfect picture of what the Southern Zone of Costa Rica is famous for, being the area where the mountains meet the sea. This tropical home has been meticulously updated with granite counter tops, stainless steel appliances, new paint, ceiling fans, windows and screens. The tasteful decorations include custom made furniture and artwork from local artisans. There is also an outdoor efficiency kitchen on the patio and a newly constructed rancho, perfect for a barbecue or relaxing in a hammock. The resort like swimming pool adjacent to the house is covered with a very high ceiling made of beautiful native wood.
