Property Description

If you are looking for a brand new home with light, clean, contemporary styling, attention to every detail and high end finishes throughout, this is it. From the moment you drive through your artistically designed security gate into the covered parking, you will be in a beautiful world of your own. The front door is a hand carved Balinese swing door and opens onto a walkway through an indoor garden that feels like a private botanical garden. Inside, every room is lit with natural light from large windows during the day and recessed lighting in the evenings. The open kitchen and dining area flow right out to the pool area for seamless indoor/outdoor dining, entertaining, and relaxation while you listen to birds and other wildlife around you. Not only does the home have 5 bedrooms, they are thoughtfully designed for maximum flexibility in how you use them. Two of the bedrooms are separated from the main home and have their own kitchenette and bathroom so guests or renters have separation and privacy.
