Property Description

This 4-acre, developmental property is located in the upscale Marina Vista neighborhood and the Escaleras community. It's situated above the beach so that the elevation provides cool breezes year-round. It features a community of outgoing nature-loving individuals. This beautiful property has different lots, making it ideal for building cabins or an estate home. With the number of harvestable teak trees on the property, you could build several pieces of furniture. It would be a huge plus to have such high-quality wood. This property is only five minutes away from Dominicalito Bay. It's within walking distance to the Poza Azul waterfall, located in the jungle of Dominicalito. It's free and features a natural swimming pool. Dominicalito Beach is smaller and less populated than Playa Dominical so often people like to walk and enjoy the sunset there. Playa Dominical is 10 minutes away, and that beach is a surfer's paradise.
