Property Description

It takes exactly one minute to stroll from this Costa Rica beach home to a pristine, undiscovered spot on the Pacific. This is a special home for anyone who values being close to the ocean, basking in the sunshine and breeze. Measuring a full 1.3 acres (5,365 m2) of titled land and perched on a gentle rise above the beach, the home's surroundings are idyllic. Yet a paved highway ends nearby; fibre optic internet is available and the local community has close to a dozen wonderful restaurants. It's a charming area (Playa Junquillal) where most hotels are family-owned and small. With over 3,000 square feet of living space (between the 2BR main home & two guest "casitas"), a large pool and garage, the property offers an opportunity to create anything. New owners could live in one space while renting the others, or develop a boutique BNB. The home, guest cabins, pool and garage were built with charm, and perhaps more importantly, concrete, fine hardwoods and other materials that have lasted the test of time.
