Property Description

Casa Sea La Vie is located on the South Coast of Costa Rica, Osa Peninsula. Where the lush mountains meet the pebble beaches. Exactly in the renowned Eco-community of Ojochal, a quiet village receiving its name from the 'Ojoche' tree, it's home to many long-time expatriates and returning snowbirds alike. It's gained a reputation for being the fine-dining mecca in Costa Rica. There are plenty of hip cafes and bistros popping up along the way where you can stop and enjoy a delicious snack or a cool, refreshing drink before setting out on to your home. The house sits in a gated community with the best dramatic ocean views in the area. The design concept of this home is outdoors with plenty of room for family and entertainment! Upon entering the new 2,637 square foot 3 bedrooms plus 2.5 bath luxury home, you will immediately notice the open layout of the kitchen and living room with 18 foot reforested semi-hardwood ceilings.
