Property Description

Very rare: A beautiful house, surrounded by natural beauty yet next door to amenities, needs your personal touch. You have no choice but to turn this oasis into your own version of paradise! In Ojochal, new property listings don't come on the market very often. As an 'international village' with its famous location, atmosphere, and amenities, the town and local area are very popular with expats and visitors alike – and real estate prices clearly reflect this demand. BUT the house I am presenting here is a very rare exception: located on the end of Ojochal paved road, this property is bordered by a lush jungle, clear mountain rivers, and rolling hills, yet it offers easy road access to the town and major highways – this location is truly PERFECT. Add to this the ocean views, and PERFECT changes to UNBELIEVABLE! Now for the icing on the cake: because significant renovation is required, you also get the opportunity to add your personal touch and turn this house into your very own VERSION OF PARADISE! What makes this dream property affordable is also what makes this offer such a great opportunity for a buyer with a vision! The southern boundary of the lot, along its entire length, is formed by the largest river in Ojochal, the Tortuga River.
