Property Description

Aguas Buenas Ranch, means just that, "Good Waters." There are several springs on the property that are the main source for this ranch. This property has so much more to offer including the deep, cold mountain springs. The front ridge is almost a full kilometre and gives you 360 degree views of the ocean, including whales tail and around to the Chirripo mountain range, Costa Rica's tallest peak. 80% of the property is cleared pasture land ready for development for eco tourism, farming, livestock, etc. With internal roads being cut to give you access to the different areas and its own cloud forest with trails in the middle that gives some separation and privacy. So much to offer, its difficult to get photos that show the actual expanse and potential this property has so we suggest visiting the property in person to really capture what this land has to offer. Accessible from Uvita, San Josecito and San Isidro, the options are endless.
